

NOTICE

Under the terms of the copyright laws of many countries, publishers are required to obtain written confirmation from authors to acquire rights for the works they publish. Your cooperation is of vital importance for the widest possible dissemination of your work. We must have your written confirmation to authorize libraries and other information centers to use this material and to perform other appropriate publishing functions. We are therefore asking you to sign and return the form enclosed with this notice.

If you and your co-authors, if any, own rights in your work as individuals (for example, you are working at a university or research institute, even if you are supported by a government grant), simply sign the attached form. If you belong to a corporation that owns the rights in the work, please have an authorized officer of the corporation sign. If the work is in the public domain because you and all your co-authors created it within the scope of your employment with the government, include the corresponding authorization. (This is the case if the work is subject to Crown copyright because you and all your co-authors are employees of the British or Canadian government.) If any governmental entity other than the U.S., British, or Canadian government owns copyright, please call the Luventicus Academy of Sciences (Luventicus) at the number below. No manuscript will be processed until the form has been returned.

General Terms of Publication in The Luventicus Academy Reports

Author Warranties

- The signer asserts the moral right to be identified as the author(s) of the work.
- The work submitted for publication is new and has not been published elsewhere.
- The work submitted is not currently under review for another publication and will not be submitted to another publication while under the advice-acceptance process for the present publication.
- Submission of the work has been approved by all the authors and by the institutions where the work was carried out. Written authorization may be required at the Editor's discretion. For works with multiple authors, all the authors participated meaningfully in the work and agree on the submitted version of the work.
- Any person cited in the work as a source of personal communications has approved such citation.
- Printed and electronic versions of the work are identical, except for elements that cannot be represented on the hard copy.
- All necessary permissions for the reproduction or excerpting of the work of others have been obtained.

Understandings

- All works submitted to Luventicus are subject to advice-acceptance, a process that is the responsibility of the Editors.
- The authors agree that, if the work is accepted for publication, they will transfer the copyright in it exclusively to Luventicus, including the right of reproduction in all forms and media, whether now known or hereafter developed, and the right to include it in collections and databases.

Personal Servers

- Upon submitting an article to Luventicus for advice and possible publication, the authors are requested to add the following notice to the first screen of any posted electronic preprint versions of the work: This work has been submitted to the Luventicus Academy of Sciences for possible publication. Copyright may be transferred without notice, after which this version may no longer be accessible.
- When Luventicus accepts the work for publication, the authors may post it, in its final accepted form, on their personal servers (but not on any organized preprint server) with a notice Accepted for publication in The Luventicus Academy Reports, until it is published by Luventicus in print or electronic form.
- After publication, authors may post their Luventicus' copyrighted material on their own servers without permission, provided that the server displays as the first line of the HTML page the following notice alerting readers to their obligations with respect to copyrighted material: This material has been published in The Luventicus Academy Reports <year>, <issue number (bold)>, <first page number-last page number>, the only definitive repository of the content that has been certified and accepted after advice. Copyright and all rights therein are retained by the Luventicus Academy of Sciences. This material may not be copied or reposted without explicit permission. The posted work must also include the Luventicus' copyright notice (Copyright © 200x by Luventicus Academy of Sciences) and a link to <http://www.luventicus.org>.

IMPORTANT: Note that Luventicus may choose to publish an abstract or portions of the work prior to publishing the work in the publication. Please contact Luventicus immediately if you would like Luventicus Academy of Sciences to refrain from such prior publication for any reason, including disclosure of a patentable invention.

If you have any questions about the procedures, please contact the Publications Department, Luventicus Academy of Sciences (telephone +54 341 4487316; facsimile: +54 3414397196; e-mail: editor.reports@luventicus.org).

Please return the form to PUBLICATIONS DEPARTMENT: Pasaje Monroe 2766, (2000) Rosario, Argentina
Original signatures are required; facsimile or photocopied signatures are not valid.

Manuscript title: _____

Author(s): _____

University/ research institute employees and others who own rights as individuals. You hereby confirm the assignment to the Luventicus Academy of Sciences (Luventicus) of the entire copyright in and to the manuscript named above and including any Supplementary Material (the Work) throughout the world in all forms and media, whether now known or hereafter developed, and in all languages effective if and when it is accepted for publication by Luventicus. You agree to abide by the terms of publication stated on the accompanying notice. You also warrant that the Work has not been published before and contains no materials the publication of which would violate any copyright or other personal or proprietary right of any person or entity, and you acknowledge that Luventicus is relying on this document in publishing this Work. Notwithstanding the assignment of copyright to Luventicus, you:

- Retain patent rights, if any.
- May make photocopies of all or part of the Work for use in your classroom teaching.
- May use your original figures/tables/illustrations/photographs from the Work in future works of your own.
- May include the Work as part of your dissertation, for noncommercial distribution only.

You agree that all copies and inclusions made under the above conditions will carry a notice of copyright and a citation to the publication article.

Corporate employees. The Work was written as part of the duties of the author as an employee of the company signing below or otherwise as a “work made for hire” (as defined in the relevant copyright law) for such company. As the authorized representative of such company, you hereby confirm the assignment to Luventicus of the entire copyright in and to the Work throughout the world in all forms and media, whether now known or hereafter developed, and in all languages effective if and when it is accepted for publication by Luventicus. You agree to abide by the terms of publication stated on the accompanying notice. You also warrant that the Work has not been published before and contains no materials the publication of which would violate any copyright or other personal or proprietary right of any person or entity, and you acknowledge that Luventicus is relying on this document in publishing this Work. Notwithstanding the assignment of copyright to Luventicus, you:

- Retain patent rights, if any.
- May prepare derivative works based on the Work, with proper acknowledgment.
- May reproduce the Work in reasonable quantities for internal use, with proper acknowledgment. However, copies of the Work may not be used for resale or in any way that implies that Luventicus, the publication, or the editorial board endorses any procedures or products of your company.

Government employees. You certify that the Work has been written as part of your official duties either as (a) an employee of the U.S. government or another government whose works are not subject to copyright protection, and as such there is no copyright to transfer; or as (b) an employee of the British, Canadian, or other government whose works are subject to Crown copyright, and via the authorized signature of the relevant government entity below, Luventicus is hereby obtaining a nonexclusive license to publish (and to authorize others to publish) the Work in all forms and media, whether now known or hereafter developed, and in all languages effective if and when it is accepted for publication. You also warrant that the Work has not been published before and contains no materials the publication of which would violate any copyright or other personal or proprietary right of any person or entity, and you acknowledge that Luventicus is relying on this document in publishing this Work.

To be signed by all the authors (or by an author who has obtained the written assent of the nonsigning authors).
